Ten Years Ago (The items below are taken from the Eagle of Dec. 1910) "Laying on hands" for complaints, especially in children, is now taking the place of Christian Science. Lately a mother cured her boy of the cigarette habit by laying her right hand a number of times in rapid succession on the boy's palladium. A father lid the same thing on his son when he learned of his son swearing his first oath. A cure was effected in both cases and up to this time no indications of a relapse have occurred.

NOTE- The above lines are clipped from an issue just before Xmas 1910. In the same issue appears accounts of the opening of Mountain View Hotel; Literary Society organized at Colson; life sentence given Wendling at Louisville for the murder of little Alma Kellner; notice of opening of normal school here by Prof. Hale; Woodrow Wilson elected Governor of New Jersey; an article by Dr. Blair on typhoid fever, and a lot of talk about the coming of Xmas.

Kentucky's Greatest Wonder

Editor Eagle:

Have just returned from my acation and thought a few lines telling about it would be of interest. The trip to Mammoth Cave and our explorations of it were just wonderful. The difference in temperature from the outside to the inside is between 54 and 56 degrees. Consequently when you find yourself 360 feet in the interior of the earth there is a great change. The most interesting thing inside the cave is Echo river. We took a boat ride on it. In the shallowest places places the water is more than 10 feet deep. While drifting along someone of our crew asked the guide, a very kind old gentleman, what would happen in case the boat upset. He replied, "Of course all would drown." An old lady fainted and we had to work hard to get breath back into her.

I am now back in the corporation store at Berea ready to help any and all our boys and girls you and help you all I can.

EDITORIAL

As a local home-spun newspaper, published for and in the interest of home-spun and homeshaped people, the Eagle has yours. presumed on the right to advise and encourage its supporters. For several years and before the railroads penetrated our section, and when the Eagle had only its own people for supporters its field was narrow and its life simpler. It could, therefore, speak in simpler words and be thoroughly understood. Times have changed, however, and people with different ideas and different business capacities are a part of us and it becomes our province to talk to them also.

The purpose of the church, the school and the newspaper, editorially speaking is to get people to think. The more they think and reason the greater and nobler they become. The sooner a child can be induced to reason on the little things with which he has to do, the sooner he can touch on the philosophy of things, the better for him. Danger lurks everywhere. Pride traveleth before a fall. We sow what we reap. We violate the law today and reap its penalties tomorrow.

Peace, happiness and prosperity depends upon obedience to the tw depends upon obedience to the law. There are three sources from which we learn and know and hearty, can walk from which we learn and know the law. The first is from the original source of all law, the Bible; the second is in the statutes enacted by men and the other is from reason and common orders peculiar to women. sense. The first and last sources are the greatest, but of the first we shall not speak. The greasest laws in the world are not e written, they exist in the big book called common sense. He who reads from this book and ELECTION NOVEMBER 8, 1921 obeys its precepts can hardly go astray. This book occupies a prominent place in the left vest pocket of every thinking person. It is his guide and his preceptor. When lost or disregarded dangers lurk on every side and in the middle.

> Out on the creeks, up on the high mountains and in the dark ravines men are overstepping the bounds of reason, risking their lives and their liberties in the making of illicit whiskey against the laws of the land and no doubt judgment. The little vest pocket memorandum is not consulted, or if so, its precepts are not heeded. They are often our own people, reared in the glorious sunlight of our own hills, imbued with the noblest of impulses and the Eagle is tied to them with cords of steel. It begs and pleads and implores them and not only them but for all its people to give up dangerous ways. Consult the book of reason, live at peace and in order with all men and the sunshine of happiness will be

"Replace Strikers or We Will," Is Ultimatum of Contractors in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 12.-With more labor men striking in protest to Judge Landis' wage decision, officials of labor unions were notified by contractors to replace the men, or they would be replaced by workmen picked by the contractors themselves. "Replace them." E. M. Craig, secretary of the Building Construction Employers' association demanded of the unions, "or we will use the powers granted by Judge Landis and put other men at work." The contrary to a better informed additional walkouts followed the meeting of the building trades' ccun cfl, at which, by unanimous vote, the unions failed to accept the decision and ordered James J. Conroy, secretary of the council, to notify the arbitrator by telegram of the action and appeal to him for an immediate rehearing. MURDER SUSPECT HELD

Two Chicago Automobile Salesmen Slain.

Harvey Church, Who Purchased New Packard Car, Seized at Adams, Wis., After Body Found in River.

Chicago, Sept. 12.-With the return to Chicago of Harvey Church, the twenty-year-old boy to whom bloody evidence points as a principal in the savage murder of Bernard J. Daugherty, it was expected to make further progress in solving the brutal crime. While awaiting the return of a police squad that went to get Church from the village lockup at Adams,

Wis., the Maywood police were to search the Desplaines river near Lake Forest, where Daugherty's manacled body was found, for the body of his companion, Carl Ausmus. Daugherty and Ausmus, salesmen for the Packard Motor Car company, vanished Thursday after going to deliver a new ear to Church. The grewsome find in the river disclosed Daugherty's fate and the police and Packard company officials are convinced, that of Ausmus as well.

Young Church was arrested at Adams, where he had driven in the new car with his mother to visit his father. He denied the murder suspicion without a quiver.

On his return he was to be confronted with grisly evidence of the crime found in his basement. There the police found the blood-smeared baseball bat, a hammer and an ax. with which Daugherty had been killed. They found his hat and Ausmus' and a splotchy trail leading from the basement to a rear door, whence, it is believed, the bodies were taken to the lonely river bank.

In the face of the accusing circumstances in the Church basement, for the year 1920, I or one of my de Church's attitude was a puzzle. After puties will on Monday, the 3d day of receiving the car, for which he was October 1921 between the hours of 10 to pay $5,400, from the two saleso'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., at men, he returned to his home and took neighbors on a spin to Indiana Har-

> Just before then he had gone to the Madison and Kedzie State bank with Daugherty and Ausmus. No one is known to have seen them alive after Church made no pretense of keeping his whereabouts secret. Early Friday morning, five hours before Daugherty's body was found, he left with his mother and said he was going to The police sent a telegram to the Adams police and Joseph Paulsen, the marshal, arrested Church as he drove into the village with his mother. ty and Ausmus. "I'm not going to say any more until I see a lawyer," he said. "I didn't kill Daugherty and I didn't kill Ausmus. But I'm not talking."

It seemed more likely that Church had led the salesmen into a trap in the basement on some pretext or that a bandit gang, learning that the automobile men were to have received a large payment of money, kidnaped them and killed them in Church's basement to place the blame on him.

Daugherty undoubtedly made a desperate fight. The murderers were forced to club him on the head and stab him in the face with a knife. Perhaps the handcuffs found linked about his right wrist had been used to render him helpless before the murder occurred.

Pershing Will Lead War Heroes Again

CENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING will lead again, in a great pageant which will be a feature of the national convention of the American Red Cross to be held in Columbus, O., Oct. 4-8, a group of the boys he spurred to victory overseas.

He Thinks Only In Terms of Millions

II B. DICKSON, who is in charge of the national convention of the American Red Cross, to be held in Columbus, O., Oct. 4-8, is also responsible for securing ten mililon members for the Red Cross this year. But, having dealt with big figures most of his life, his present task doesn't bother him in the least. The Columbus convention is to crystallize interest in the nation-wide roll call.

Belfast Calls Out More Troops as the Fighting Continues-Newspaper Charges Orange Hooligans Attacked Catholics.

Dublin, Sept. 2.-The latest reply of the De Valera cabinet has been dispatched to Prime Minister Lloyd George, who is in Scotland.

More Rioting in Belfast. Belfast, Sept. 2.-Soldiers were rushed to the Grove street section of Belfast when several shots were fired in that district. When the troops arrived, however, the gunmen had van-This was the first recurrence of the street fighting.

The Ulster cabinet meeting to con-__1,568.03 sider the serious conditions prevailing here was joined in the discussion by military officials and police authorities. Arrangements were made to draft additional troops for the protection of the city, and other steps were taken to restore and maintain order.

The total casualties for the rioting, which began Monday, are 15. There probably have been 100 persons more or less seriously injured, of whom many were noncombatants who had ventured into the streets which were being swept by rifle and revolver fire. Six persons were killed yesterday and 30 wounded, many seriously.

Gunmen were again active at night in the Old Lodge district. They opened a heavy fire in the direction of Shank Hill road, a thickly populated Protestant quarter. A young man was killed and four were seriously wounded in
